COMMUNITY

In 1996, Quilt Connection was formed as a community-building ministry. Our purpose is to bring people together around a common interest where knowledge and friendships can be shared.

Quilt Connection is a 501c3 not-for-profit volunteer organization coordinated by an elected Board of Directors. We are inclusive, encouraging ideas and participation.

QUILT BEE...

Who can say that modern world people don't connect in so many ways?
Just take a look inside the thick walled church that dates from so long ago...
Where women meet from all different backgrounds on a weekly basis
To commune with one another, sharing thoughts, feelings, and anecdotes: the very fabric of one's life both literally and figuratively...
On the outside it may look simply like a sewing circle of days gone by, something from my grandmother's day perhaps?
Tea, tidbits, cakes of various sorts most made lovingly by hand to please the palate...
They warm the heart and set a tone that says "Come eat, share with me."
Talk swirls around the tables, catching up on life's ups and downs, highlights and incidents that disturb the peace we seek.
Love and support are available for all who need it; a phone call, a card, a lent ear to ease the burden of perplexing problems that don't make sense.
Ideas are shared about the obsession we share; fabric, needle, thread, yarn and more.
The stuff which we invest so much of ourselves in for others, for loved ones and those we don't know but wish well.
Sometimes we even manage to make something to keep for our own, a piece we can't let go!
Rare gifts that come in many forms and while each so different so very beautiful in its own way.
